Camelot Lakes Village: A Certified Wildlife Habitat!

We have some exciting news to share with our Camelot Lakes family—Camelot Lakes Village is officially a Certified Wildlife Habitat!

On July 27, Camelot Lakes reached this special milestone through the National Wildlife Federation (NWF), after nearly a year of communication, questions, paperwork, and persistence. A very special thank-you goes to the helpful people at the National Wildlife Federation who worked with us throughout the process and helped make this dream a reality.

The inspiration for this project came from something we see every day here at Camelot Lakes: people who care. Our beautiful community is made even more special by residents who work hard to care for their homes, their yards, and the natural beauty that surrounds us. Their efforts help create a welcoming environment not only for our neighbors, but also for the wildlife that calls Florida home.

A Little More Wildlife, a Lot More Wonder

Camelot Lakes is already home to an amazing variety of wildlife. Recently, we've had the pleasure of spotting some exciting visitors, including a roseate spoonbill, swallow-tailed kites, and a kingfisher! And, of course, we can't forget our two eagles!

Our community is also visited by swans, storks, cranes, turtles, ducks, parakeets, black snakes, and countless other birds, insects, and little creatures that make Florida such a remarkable place to live.

For many of us who spend part of the year in Florida after living in more urban areas, one of the great joys of being here is discovering just how much wildlife surrounds us. You don't always have to travel to a wildlife refuge or state park to experience nature. Sometimes, you simply have to look out your window. That is something worth protecting.

Being Good Stewards of Our Home

Becoming a Certified Wildlife Habitat is about more than receiving a certificate. To me, it represents a commitment to help keep Florida the beautiful, wild, and wonderfully diverse place it is.

We are incredibly fortunate to live in a community where nature is part of our everyday lives. Being good stewards means recognizing that privilege and doing what we can to care for the place we call home and support the wildlife we are lucky enough to share it with.

And this is just the beginning!

Residents can look forward to informational events and activities in the future as we celebrate our new status, learn more about the wildlife around us, and discover simple ways we can continue making Camelot Lakes a welcoming place for nature.

Want to Certify Your Own Yard?

Our community certification can also inspire us to think about what we can do individually. The National Wildlife Federation offers its own Certified Wildlife Habitat® program for individual yards and outdoor spaces. Even a small space can provide important resources for wildlife, and NWF offers helpful information about creating wildlife-friendly habitats.

If you'd like to learn more about certifying your own yard, visit: www.nwf.org

Look for the Garden for Wildlife / Certified Wildlife Habitat program.

Thank You, Camelot Lakes!

A heartfelt thank-you to Susan and Renee for their support, encouragement, and help along the way—and to all of our residents who care so deeply about making Camelot Lakes a beautiful place to live. And, of course, a special thank-you to our wildlife residents: the two eagles, swans, storks, cranes, turtles, black snakes, ducks, parakeets, and all the other little animals who remind us every day just how special our corner of Florida really is.

We earned the certificate, but the real achievement is what it represents: a community that cares about its home and the wildlife we are lucky enough to share it with.

Here's to protecting, appreciating, and celebrating the wild beauty of Camelot Lakes for years to come!

Congratulations, Camelot Lakes Village! 🦅🌿🦋

Embrace the Arrival of September

With September upon us, we're looking forward to a refreshing autumn breeze and hopefully a respite from the summer heat. It's the ideal time to venture outdoors and take advantage of everything our community has to offer.

This season, we're launching a vibrant lineup of both indoor and outdoor gatherings, including:

- A poolside movie (featuring Jaws, of course)
- Trivia night with Dutch (a $5.00 ticket is required)
- An 18-hole miniature golf course set up in our auditorium! Tickets for this activity are also just $5—so bring friends

We're getting an early start on the holidays by creating Christmas messages on cards for veterans. Additionally, there will be an indoor potluck meal with corn hole games. Be sure to mark your calendar for a special Wine Down Wednesday with a Greek theme! Come dressed in costume for a chance to win prizes!

Would you like to check your blood pressure or receive a flu shot? Be sure to check for dates, along with opportunities for a Cooking Frenzy and a Swan Cafe Luncheon.

Creative Workshops and Guest Speakers

In addition to our casual gatherings, we'll offer a craft project to create your own fall arrangement only $10 (limited tickets). Plus, make plans for October when we will host a local guest speaker to discuss Medicare changes, accompanied by a light lunch, (sign up is required) and finally an exciting trip to Tarpon Springs by coach bus with our friends from Camelot East Village.

Stay updated on all our upcoming events by checking the calendar. Whether you're eager to stay active or simply want to catch up with neighbors over iced tea, there are numerous ways to connect and enjoy the Fall season together!

Let's appreciate each day, as every single one is a precious gift!

I LIVE TO EAT

This month's location has the simplest and most efficient title for a restaurant anyone could ask for. It's called "Food and Beer". You can't be confused about what they offer. It is a sports bar but it is divided into two sections, one side mainly for the pub area and the other side for sports and gaming. There is a bar in each section so you can take your pick of where you want to get hammered. The menu is pub classics kicked up a notch and all from scratch. Most of us had the meatball smashburger. I was worried that it was just going to be a hamburger with some marinara sauce on it but they were real meatballs with melted parmesan on the top bun. One of our diners raved about the Cuban egg rolls. We also had an enormous soft pretzel with two dipping sauces that was more than enough for everyone to get a taste. The happy hour runs until 7pm which is unusual and I was able to get a top shelf gin and tonic which made me very happy. There are 3 locations in Sarasota of this popular place. We went to the original space in Gulf Gate where the owners started but they have expanded all over the Suncoast. Prices are reasonable. They do not take reservations but it didn't pose a problem for our group and the other guests coming in. They also stay open late if you get a craving for an interesting variety of food after you've been out partying. Or, if you are like us. go early before you have to drive in the dark. I know, I don't like it either.
